HAPPENINGS OF DAY IN CAPITAL SOCIETY

Items of Interest and Importance of Past, Present, and Future Among Official and Fashionable Folk.

Only a small gathering of relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom were invited to witness the marriage of Miss Florence Larrabee Silsby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson Silsby, to Lieut. George Lamberton Smith, U. S. A., which took place at noon today at the bride's home in Fairmont street. The house was charmingly decorated with palms, oak leaves, and quantities of pink roses, and a screen and canopy of roses, massed against a background of feathery green. marked the bay window in the drawing room where the bridal couple stood during the ceremony. The Rev. Samuel H. Greene, of Calvary Baptist Church, officiated, and there was a program of harp and violin music during the seating of the guests, with Miss Marguerite O'Toole at the harp. Miss O'Toole also played the wedding marches, and dur-ing the ceremony gave a delightful ren-dering of McDowell's "To a Wild dering of McDoweil's "To a Wild Rose."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in ivory charmeuse, made with an overdress of tulie pallileted in iridescent sequins. The charmeuse bodice was ornamented with a jacket of the sequins, forming a point in the back, and the decolletage was softened with tulie. The long sleeves were also of tulie, and there was a long square cut court train. She wore a tulie vein, arranged in a close fitting cap effect, with orange blossoms across the back of the head, and carried filles of the valley. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Mary Hepburn Reed, cousin of the bridegroom, who was the only at-tendant, wore a pink taffeta frock, with a petticoat of pink satin brocade and bodice and sleeves of pink Georgette c.e.e. A wreath of tiny pink rosebuds kirdled the waist, and with this dainty tistume Miss Reed wore a pink panne veivet hat, faced with black and trimveivet hat, faced with black and trimmed with two great shaded pink roses set against the crown. Her flowers were pink rosebuds. Lieutenant Davis the Treville, U.S. N., was best man. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Lieutenant Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradish Johnson Smith, of Stamford, Conn.; George Wilson Silsby, Jr., Miss Elsie Hepburn, of New York, and Mrs. John Mellsh Coudon, of Cincinrati. Mrs. Smith wore a modish costume of white Georgette crepe and a pink veivet hat, rose wreathed and faced with black, and Mrs. Slisby was gowned in ivory satin con bined with orchid veivet. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Teachers will be required in a few weeks to render reports of pupils from out of the District, because children whose parents are not employed here still must pay tuition. Owing to the pressure of their other work, the super-intendent will permit a week or more to elapse before requiring this information. The entire enrollment in all white schools was 26.691 vesterday, and 34.601 schools was 36,091 yesterday, and 34,901 on the corresponding day last year. The colored schools yesterday showed a total enrollment of 14,674, as compared with 14,609 last year.

First Time Fifty Thousand Chil- First Meeting of Executive Committee Since Vacation Comes Tonight.

The first meeting after the summer va the third day of the school year passed cation period. of the executive committhe 50,000 mark. Reports received at the tee of the joint citizens' committee on Franklin building this morning showed fiscal relations between the United States and the District of Columbia will be held this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the office of H. B. F. Macfarland. How much of this increase is due to the influx of pupils from Maryland and Virginia because of the law permitting children of persons employed in the District to attend Washington schools free is not yet known.

Superintendent Thurston explained today that no figures were yet available regarding the out-of-town pupils because they had been cared for automatically at the Takoma Park and Chevy Chase schools. No half-time classes have been organized at those schools, and after classes reached a certain limit the Maryland pupils have been sent farther downtown.

Teachers will be required in a few weeks to render reports of pupils from the office of H. B. F. Macfarland. Preparations are to be made for the continuance of the work of the committee in presenting facts to the joint select committee of Congress at the hearings which are to begin October 20. Practically every member of the executive committee has returned to the city and most of the data which the committee proposes to present to Congress is in hand.

The work of the subcommittee on assessment and taxation, of which John Dov Edson is chairman and Thomas weeks to render reports of pupils from Bradley is secretary, is being tabulated under the direction of A. M. Fisher, statistical expert, and will be ready for the executive committee within ten days. All the other subcommittees have reported on the different phases of the fiscal relation between the United States and the District of Columbia since the founding of the District, in 1790. Some statistics which have been promised to the executive committee by different departments of the Government are yet to come. It is expected, however, that all the facts will be in the possession of the executive committee and arranged in convenient form for the joint select committee of Congress before the day set for the opening of the hearings, the 20th of next month. The members of the executive committee are Henry B. F. Macfarland, chairman; Theodore W. Noyes, D. J. Callahan, Corcoran Thom, Edward F. Colladay, and Col. A. S.
